Introduction

The International Labour Organization (ILO) has estimated that 21 million men, women and children are victims of forced labor globally. Kelly Services, Inc., as well as its subsidiaries, ("Kelly") recognizes the transparency requirements of the UK Modern Slavery Act and they are consistent with our support of the UN's Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights and their requirement to 'know and show' that we are working to respect all human rights.

We believe increased transparency, improved oversight, detailed compliance, and other checks and balances are necessary and effective means of ensuring the protection of human rights around the world.

Given the worldwide span of our workers, clients, suppliers, and partners, we recognize the global reach of our business practices and our public accountability. Here at Kelly Services, we take pride in the positive impact we have on our communities and for our commitment to improve lives and wellbeing through providing work and advocating for better quality jobs.

We are equally committed to respect and protect human integrity and dignity by uncovering abusive behavior and playing a positive role in stopping and fighting such behavior in our business, supply chain and any other areas we can impact. This is especially true with our commitment to identify, mitigate and eradicate modern day slavery; namely human trafficking and forced labor.
